Emerald Lake Books to release “Solutionaries: You Are the Answer”

Book uncovers the answer to making the world a better place

As an attorney and social entrepreneur, author and speaker, Linda Lattimore encountered many successful women who were at the peak of their careers, yet felt unfulfilled. They expressed feelings of being stuck, floating or in freefall. They knew there was something more they wanted to do with their lives, but were unsure what that was or how to get started.

Many of these people asked Lattimore for her help in determining their next steps. The process she took them through was highly successful, and ultimately became the basis for her Solutionaries Academy, consisting of a course, community and events. The companion workbook, called “Solutionaries: You Are the Answer,” was released on April 5, 2018.

“Solutionaries” offers a process anyone can follow to identify and align their personal gifts and talents with the issues they are most passionate about, just as Lattimore has done herself.

April 5, 2018

Lattimore is founder of the Solutionaries Academy, Cross Sector Institute and WGN Global Fund. In that professional capacity, she offers training to individuals and corporations understanding the need and value of social innovation, and desiring to become responsible and conscious business entities.

“People were coming to me,” Lattimore says, “asking for help to identify work that would give them emotional fulfillment in terms of making a difference in the world.”

Lattimore’s message in “Solutionaries,” published by Emerald Lake Books, emphasizes that we all hold answers, both as individuals and businesses, to resolving some of the world’s most pressing issues. It doesn’t matter if you’re from Generation Z, a Millennial or a Baby Boomer. We each hold a piece of the larger puzzle and share a desire to leave a legacy while having work that fills our emotional reserves.

By applying our individual gifts and talents to the problems at hand, we can positively impact the issues we care most about.

In “Solutionaries,” readers explore a series of lessons and exercises that help clarify their piece of the puzzle and develop an action plan to implement what they’ve discovered.

After reading the book, Rosa Glenn Reilly, director and founder of Spectrum Center in Houston, Texas, stated, “This book should be on the shelf of every job recruiter, psychologist, school counselor and in every household with anyone about to embark into the world for the first time or the twentieth time.”

Tara R. Alemany, Founding Partner of Emerald Lake Books, says, “After seeing what Linda had to offer through her Solutionaries Academy, we were excited about presenting that process in book form. This book isn’t about finding someplace where you can simply volunteer, but how you might be fulfilled both personally and financially by the work you do. I know ‘Solutionaries’ will make a difference in people’s lives as they find their own unique path to making the world a better place.”

Based in Sherman, CT, Emerald Lake Books is a hybrid publishing company specializing in working with positive people who want to make a difference in the world, while building their business at the same time.
